Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Education in Albany: An Opportunity and a Business What educational opportunity will be possible for my children? This is the most important question a man asks who is seeking a home. Albany answers this question with a completeness hardly realized even by her own residents. It is possible for a child to spend seventeen years here in regular public school courses - kindergarten one year, grades eight years, high school four years, and State College four years. That is, this city says to the prospective resident, Here your child may be taken at five years of age, trained for seventeen years without expense to you and at a total cost of $1258.79 to the city and $1000 to the state, according to the present budget, a total gift of $2258.79. If the preference is for private or parochial training, then the opportunity is equally complete. The Catholic schools offer the same well-rounded courses beginning with the kindergarten, extending through the grades, with four high schools for boys and girls and two colleges for girls. There are also private tuitionary schools for boys and for girls that take young children through the grades and prepare for college. In addition to the regular academic institutions there are schools for those requiring special consideration. In the public schools special classes are provided for those mentally retarded, for the anemic, tuberculous and deaf and for those of poor vision. A vocational school furnishes a two year course for boys and girls who prefer to prepare for a trade rather than for a more advanced academic training, and a continuation school cares for one thousand working girls and boys by...
